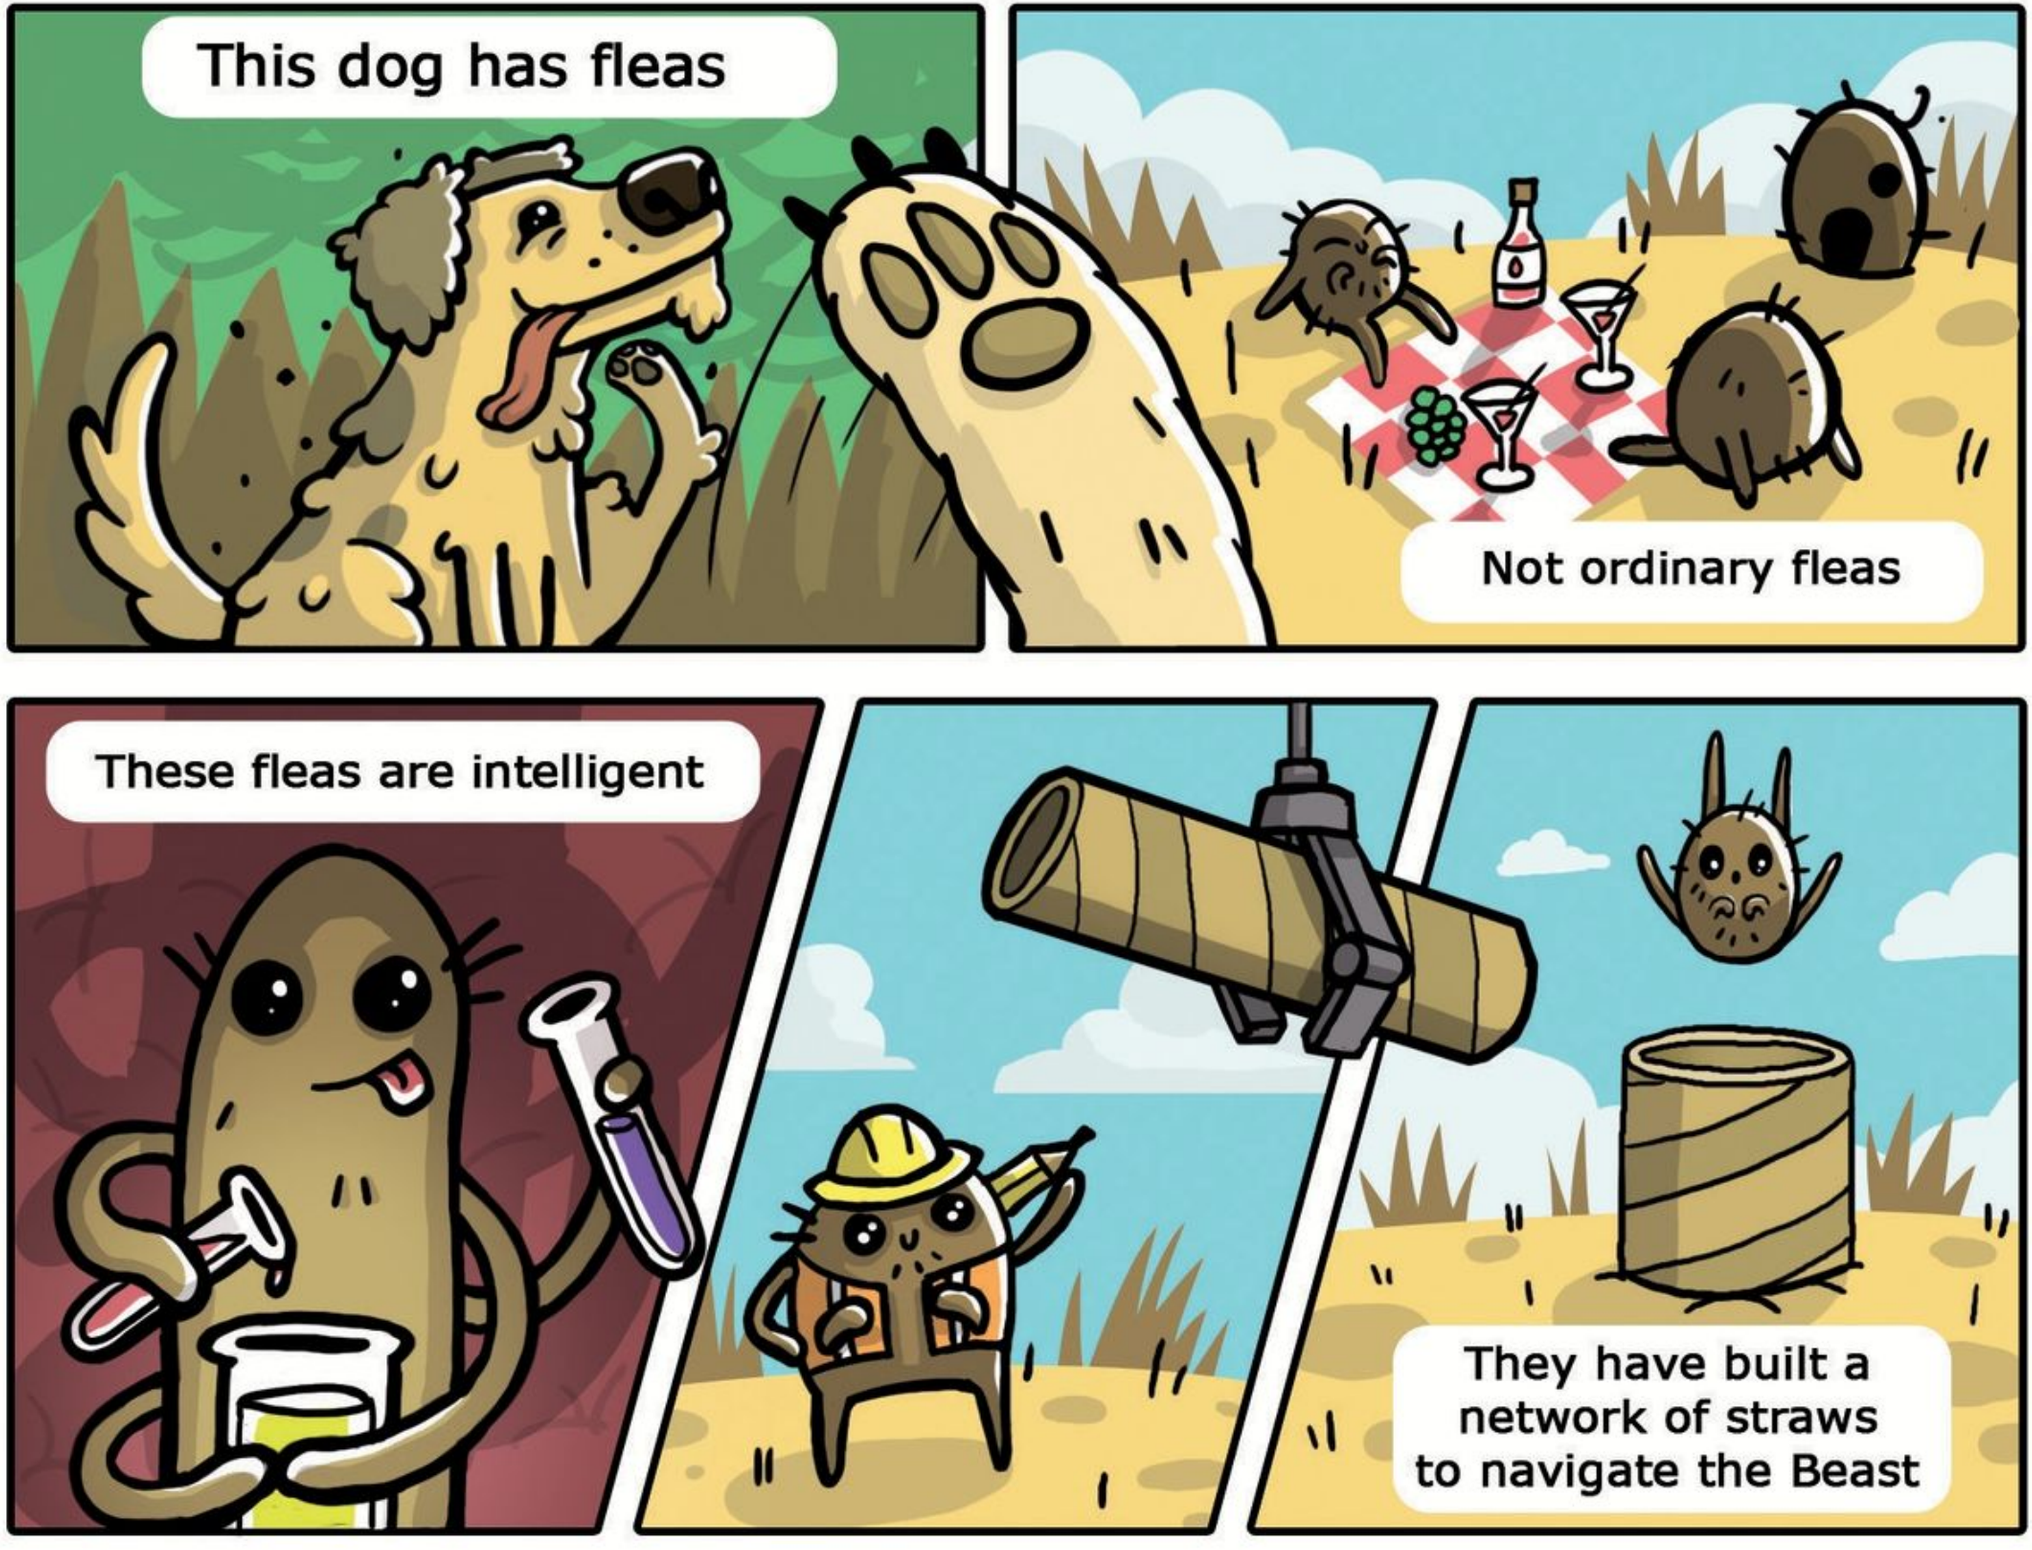
Game Area



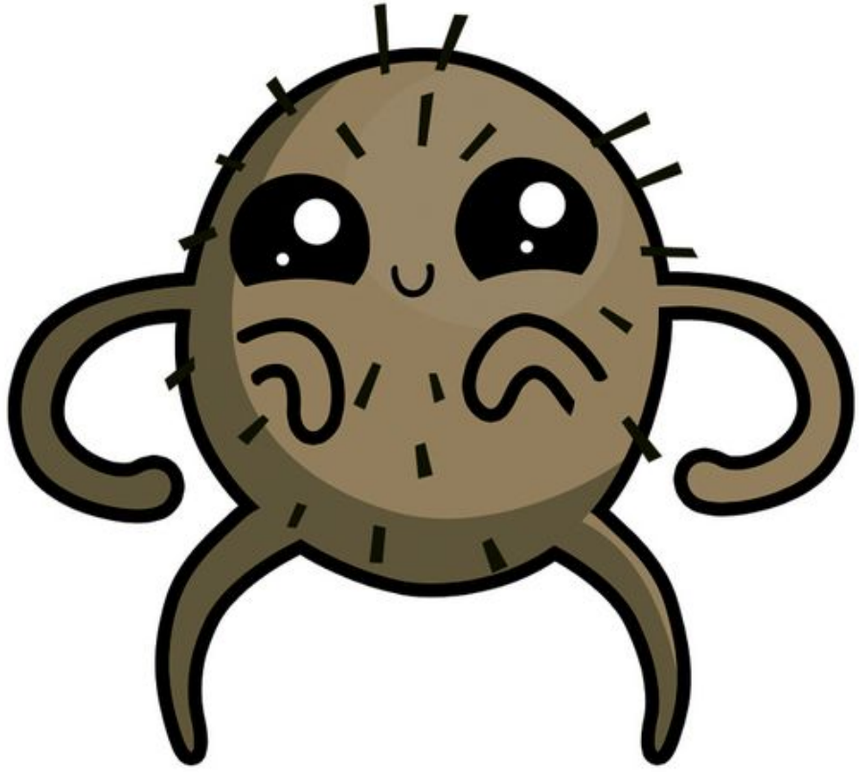
This dog has fleas
Not ordinary fleas
These fleas are intelligent
They have built a network of straws to navigate the Beast

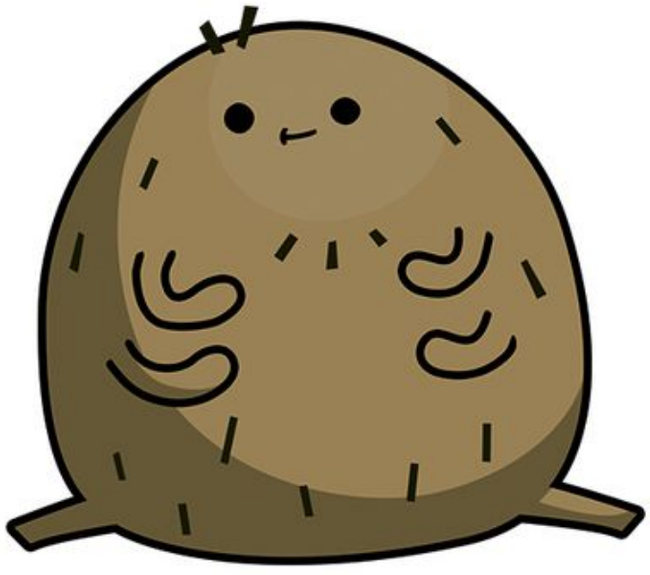
The are ruled by the greedy King who wants all the Blood for him and his r-itch friends
While they gorge themselves on the fine blood, the refu-fleas are planning a revolution!

These fleas live on and in a pack of beasts. Their blood used to flow enough for everyone. But in recent times, it has been slightly harder to come by and unpopular blood consumption laws have heavily taxed any blood gathered. There is a growing “flea-dom fighter” movement which wants to change the rules enforced by the King flea. Anyone who is caught opposing these rules is thrown off the beast and labeled a hera-tick. The flea orphanage has been running low on blood for a while now.
This is where this story begins.

HENRY

You play as Henry the hyperactive Flea. You have been tasked to collect blood to help feed the orphan, and refu-fleas from the last de-flea. Help Henry explore all corners of the beast and get to the heart of the blood distribution problems.





BiG

Big is a large flea in charge of the flea orphanage. He used to go out and collect blood like Henry but he's gotten too fat over the years and can no longer fit down the pipes. Now he watches over the orphan fleas and does general management for the cause.

HUMFLEA

Humflea is one of many fine blood connoisseurs on the beast. He cares about nothing more than the finest blood sourced from the farthest reaches of the beast. Unlike Big he stays skinny due to his picky diet and likes things in moderation.

TAI-FLEA

Tai is well versed in the art of calm meditation. Listen to what he says, you might learn something.

KING FLEA

He rules over all inhabitants on the beast. His throne has direct plumbing to all the best blood and saves the good stuff for him and his friends. He has made all blood taxable, which some would disagree with.

TAPEWORM

Tapeworm runs the local underground disco. Stop by for a pint of blood and a few pumping tunes.

FLEADOM FIGHTERS

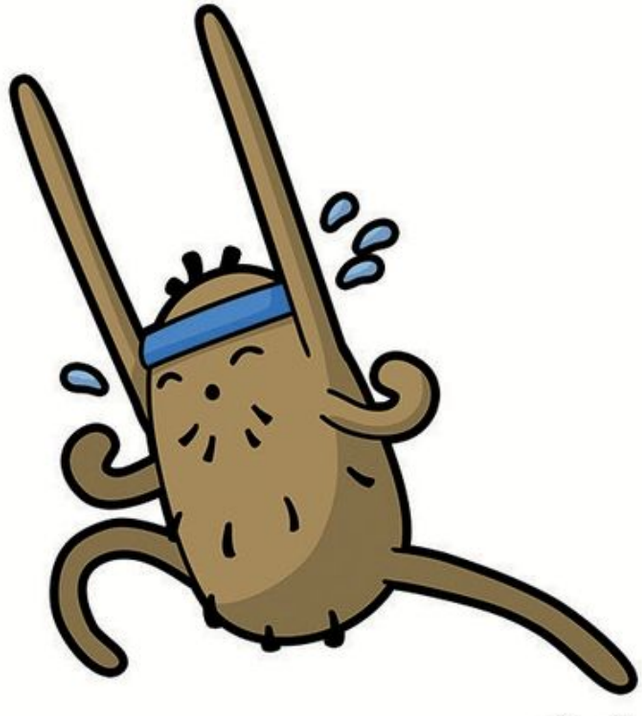
These guys are tough outlaws with an itch to scratch. They believe the blood should be free for everyone and not taxed by the King flea.

RICK ITCH - HIKER

Rick is constantly looking for the next thrill, experiencing new customs and cuisines. He also adversely struggles with confidence in taking the first steps.

FLEX

This flea has even more energy than Henry. Always working out and breaking a sweat whether it be on a run or a night out at tapeworm's club.



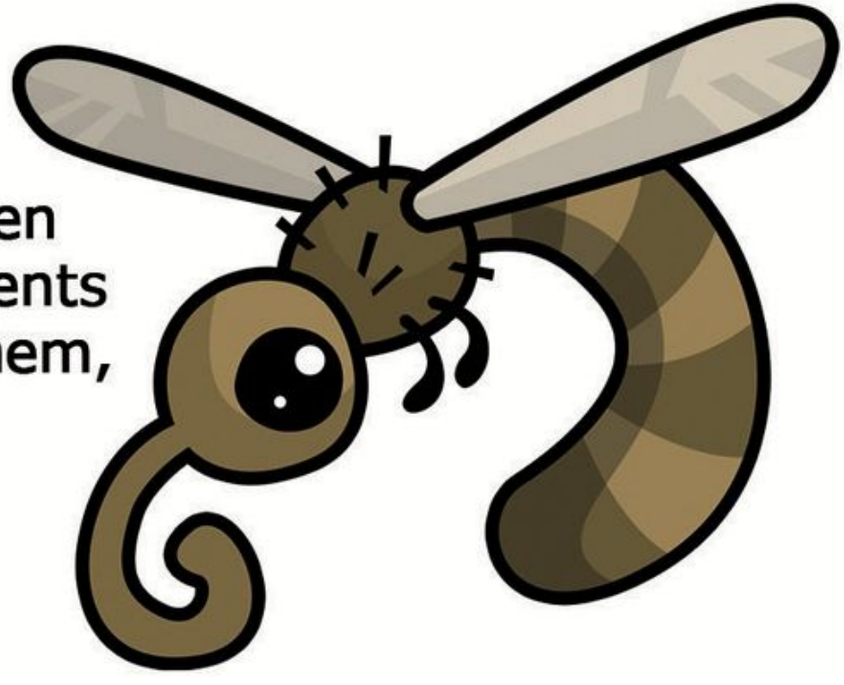
FLEADA

A somewhat elusive flea who made it big on the catwalk. She has taken a step out of the limelight but remains on fleak.

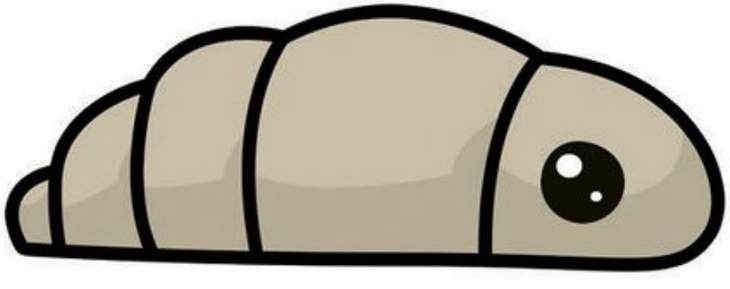
SILVESTER

This growing lad is often left home alone while his parents go to work.

MOSQUITO



They usually show up alone but that does not mean they don't group up when there's blood on the line. Their movements are sometimes sporadic. Don’t touch them, they are quite deadly to fleas.

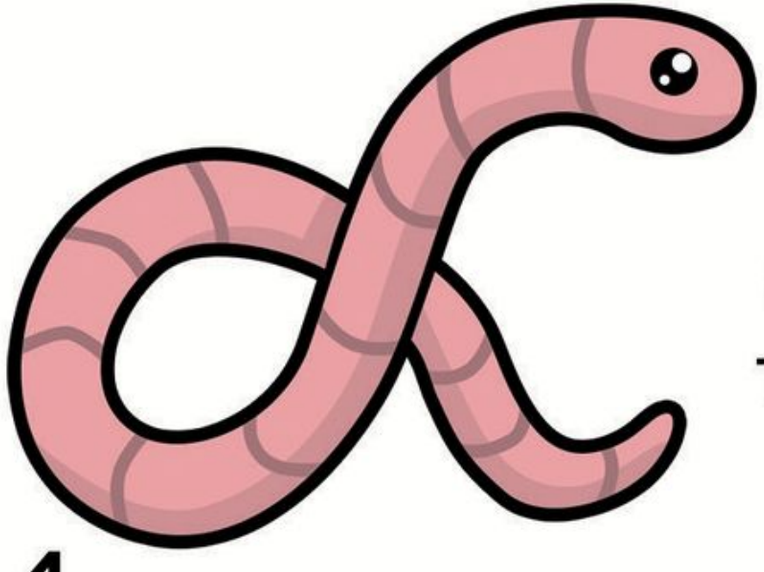


MAGGOT

They often gather in groups and just move mindlessly from side to side. Don’t touch them, they are quite deadly to fleas.

TINY FLIES

They are quite unpredictable in their movements. You will always be on your toes when they are around.

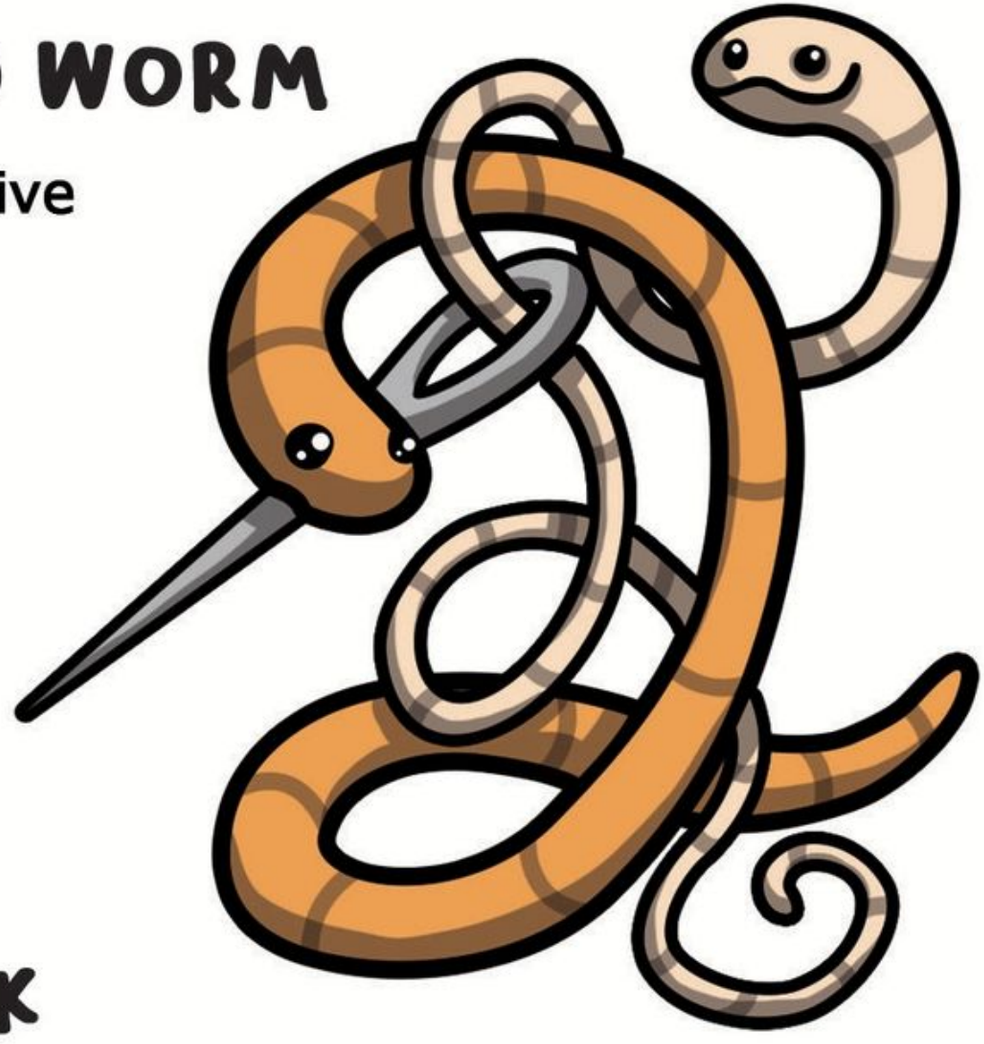


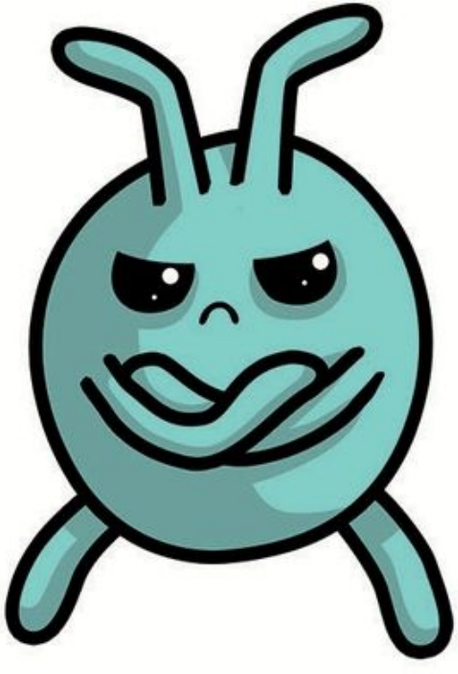
LONG WORM

They wriggle in straight lines at a fast speed. Get out of their way quickly.

NEEDLE AND THREAD WORM

These two are a nasty pair who live in the beast's gut, causing intermittent stabbing pains.





TICK

These guys like to pick a spot and just get in your way.
